OF ZION.

Back to the Farm for Dowie.

Voliva's Cross-Bill Scaring "Prophet" from Scenes of Former Activity.

He Is Accused of Causing Losses of Over Two and a Half Millions.

Allegations of Unsound Mind and Immoral Conduct Are Being Made Freely.

CHICAGO, May 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Steps taken today forecast the passing of Dowie. The withdrawal of the "prophet" from his people was decided upon this afternoon at a meeting between Dowie, his immediate family and his Chicago attorney E. C. Wetten. At this conference, it was determined that Dowie should leave Zion City as soon as his health would permit, and take up his residence at the Ben MacDuff estate in Michigan.

The decision to abandon Zion was a result of the failure of the "prophet" to rally his followers in the recent crusade and also of the cross bill filed in Washington by the Voliva faction, stating that the recent appearance of the founder of Zion at the fairgrounds had demonstrated his unsoundness for the post of trustee of the Zion properties.

In the cross bill, it was alleged that Dowie had caused losses of more than two million five hundred thousand dollars to the Zion organization. DOWIE'S TRANCE. In addition it was alleged that Dowie is of unsound mind, and that he had lain in a trance for several hours in Mexico, on receiving news of his repudiation by Zion City and the adoption of the Voliva regime.

The story of the "trance" was related in an affidavit by Miss Elizabeth McLennan, a trained nurse who accompanied the "First Apostle" to Jamaica, then to Mexico, and returned with him to Chicago. The third night out from Boston, on the steamship, Dowie wanted to leap from the boat and return to Zion City, according to Miss McLennan.

In Jamaica, he believed he was holding a peace conference, and was constantly making preparations to greet the Emperor of Germany, who he declared, was on the way to ask his advice.

One night, his nurse said, he asked her to place three goblets on the dresser, saying that one was for the Princess Elna, one for the Prince of Battenberg and the other for himself. REVELRIES AND ORGIES. Revelries at sunrise prayer meetings and orgies in and about the grounds of Ben MacDuff, the Dowie summer home, are charged against the "First Apostle" by John Jensen, a former Dowieite, and for two years general manager of the summer estate.

Jensen today left for his former home in Millbrook, N. Y., but before he left he made the following allegations against the deposed "prophet": "Dowieism is rotten," was the comment of Jensen. "Last summer there were too many scandals for me. I saw something that is not fit to be explained."

"It is no wonder that Voliva deposed Dowie. The old schemer, while at his summer home, seemed to live to kiss and embrace the pretty female members of the white-robed choir."

"Every summer was one of revelry. Many mornings sunrise prayer meetings were held, but only Dowie and selected pretty girls were there."

"One morning I saw Dowie and a woman, not his wife, sailing away in a boat. I followed them, but the details of what I saw I will not relate. The same kind of orgies went on in the house."

STUDY OF TUBERCULOSIS.

Symposium at Washington is Told of Benefits Accruing from Treatment in Southern California.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the climatological section of the Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, a lively symposium was held on the relative merits of treatment of tuberculosis at home and in health resorts. Dr. S. A. Knopf of New York said it was dangerous to deny the benefit of change to a favorable climate in cases of tuberculosis. American citizens of the warmer zone, he said, would find Southern California the most beneficial.

GOING TO SEE HIS MONKEYS.

"BATH HOUSE" JOHN COUGHLIN ROUNDS UP MILLIONAIRES.

Chicago's Noted Alderman Plans to Take a Hundred Million Dollars' Worth of Windy City Folks to His Zoo by Special Train, Which Shall Eclipse the Run of "Scotty."

CHICAGO, May 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John Coughlin, Chicago's alderman, proposes to eclipse the death-defying run made by Walter Scott, the hero of Death Valley. He will bring a train of millionaires out from Chicago on a record run to Colorado Springs. The aggregate wealth of the crowd will approximate $100,000,000.

Coughlin will lead the delegation to his zoo, south of Colorado Springs. He leaves for Chicago tomorrow night to complete arrangements for the special.

Coughlin has added a collection of monkeys to his zoo. The animals arrived yesterday, and were taken out to Coughlin's beautiful country place at Broadmoor.

PRESBYTERIANS HURT IN FALL.

COMMISSIONERS INJURED WHILE POSING FOR PHOTOGRAPHER.

Question of Union of Northern and Southern Churches Discussed at Des Moines General Assembly. While Arguments on Pica for Injunction Against Movement Are Begun Elsewhere.

DES MOINES, May 18.—Five commissioners to the Presbyterian General Assembly were injured, none seriously, late this afternoon, by the collapse of a temporary stand which had been erected for the purpose of getting a large group photograph of the assembly. The injured are: Dr. C. Lukens, Rosewell, N. M.; hip bruised. Rev. W. O. David, Monrovia, W. Va.; hip bruised. George Willis, Mendota, Ill.; back injured and rendered unconscious. Rev. J. M. McGaughey, Charlton, Iowa; leg strained. Rev. W. G. Buell, Taos, N. M., back bruised.

The question of the proposed union of the Presbyterian and Cumberland Presbyterian churches was discussed by the General Assembly today. Telegrams from the Cumberland assembly, at Decatur, Ill., in which definite inquiry as to whether the Presbyterians were willing to unite under the 1904 standard, abrogating recent additions to the standard of faith, precipitated the debate. The injunction by the Cumberland minority was based on the fact that the Presbyterian assembly had added other features, thus altering the standard of 1904, under which they had contracted to unite.

Presbyterians here replied that they were willing to unite under the 1904 standard, but that such action did not abrogate the new features—that the new features would have to be presented to the united church before they became operative.

CHAIRMEN ELECTED. The General Assembly today elected chairmen of standing committees. Among the committees are the following: On church policy, John W. Dinsmore, San Jose, Cal.; on leave of absence, W. S. Holt, D.D., Portland, Me.

The woman's home missionary branch of the Presbyterians today voted to assume all mission work in California and collections will be taken to put the California synod on its feet. All records and funds of the California society were wiped out by the earthquake, as were also the reports they were to have made here.

The assembly established March 4 as the day for prayer for Indians who on that day will be admitted to citizenship. The secretary reported total collections $505,530; expenditures, $435,412.

YEMEN REBELS RETAKE FORT.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.] LONDON, May 18.—A dispatch from Port Said, May 18, to the Daily Mail, reports that the Yemen rebels have reoccupied the principal fortress at Sanaa, repudiated allegiance to the Sultan and formed their own government.

MILES OF FLAMES DESTROYING TOWNS.

Three Sections of Wisconsin and Upper Michigan Peninsula on Fire.

Extensive Havoc Wrought in a Wide Expanse of Territory West and South of Marquette—Stanley, Talbot, Daggett, Powers, Saunders, Quinnessee and Auburndale Among the Places Burned or in Peril.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.] MILWAUKEE, May 18.—Specials to the Sentinel tell of serious fires in three sections of Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. A tract of thirty square miles has been swept by forest fires near Escanaba, Mich., and several villages destroyed. Several lives may have been lost.

The city of Stanley, in Chippewa county, with 5000 inhabitants, is reported to be in flames. The village of Auburndale, Wood county, was swept by fire which started in a lumber yard, destroying property valued at $100,000.

VILLAGES DESTROYED. Later: A sentinel dispatch from Escanaba, Mich., filed at 10 p.m. says: "Driven by a heavy gale of wind, one of the most destructive forest fires in the history of this district this afternoon laid waste to a tract of land 50 miles square, and at a late hour tonight was still spreading."

"At 9 o'clock, it is definitely known that the following cities and villages have been completely wiped out: Quinnessee, population 2000. "Schooner, 200. "Ralphs, 400. "Salvo, 200. "Cornell, 200. "Woodlawn, 200. "Talbot, 400. "At North and at several other points on the line of the Escanaba and Lake Superior Road, tonight, at 9 p.m., when all communication was cut off, fire had reached the outskirts of the village, and no hope of saving property was entertained. Hundreds of people are homeless, and many have been brought to Escanaba as fast as trains can be sent to the burned district.

"In addition to the loss of several sawmills and other buildings millions of feet of cut timber have been burned and great tracts of standing timber badly damaged. "The loss of the I. Stephens Company of Wells from burning timber alone, it is believed tonight, will approximate several hundred thousand dollars.

FAMILIES MISSING. "As far as known tonight no lives have been lost, although families of several homesteaders living in the burned district are missing, and it is feared that they have been burned to death.

"Refugees are arriving in the city tonight and tell terrible tales of their experiences in escaping from the sweeping flames. "One man declared that the flames were advancing in the vicinity of Cornbelt at the rate of twenty miles an hour when he and half the residents of that place were taken out on a relief train.

Homesteaders carrying packs of a few personal effects, who also had been driven from their homes, were found by the train crews at all points along the right of way, and were picked up and brought into this city, or left at stations not threatened by fire.

LUMBERMEN'S FLIGHT. "It is known that two camps of the I. Stephens Company have been completely wiped out, and large crews of men at work in the heart of the heavily-wooded country and, with no railroad facilities, are in great danger. The crew of one lumbering camp, together with fifty horses, fled before the fire for a distance of twelve miles, and were reported safe at Princeton at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

"It is reported that several railroad bridges have been destroyed, and that entire trains of cars have been burned on the tracks.

"All freight traffic on both the Northwestern and Escanaba and Lake Superior roads is suspended, and the entire attention of the train crews are given to relief trains sent out to move residents of burned towns to places of safety."

"Owing to the fact that the rails

FOREST FIRES RAGE IN FOUR COUNTIES.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.] MILWAUKEE (Wis.) May 18.—A special dispatch from Marinette, Wis., at 11 p.m. says: "The best information obtainable at this hour is that the forest fire which is sweeping the country north of here has reached Iron county, north of Dickinson. This makes four counties which are suffering from fire. The area was 200 miles square. The country swept by flames extends from Pine Timber land to Barrens. Part is Iron mountain country and the districts include immense tracts of hardwood, which has never been touched by woodmen's axes. In the Barrens, the settlers have taken their stand.

"Information received at Marinette is that the lumber town of Shafter, in Dickinson county, was wiped out. No word has been received as to the loss of life there, if any.

"The village of Saunders in Iron county, a lumber town, directly north of Florence, Wis., has also been swept by the flames."

Hood's Resort, West of Cloverdale, Loses Its Gusher—Santa Rosa's Municipal Water Plant Unable to Handle the Increased Supply—Previous Efforts to Get Enough Failed.

SANTA ROSA, May 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The earthquake in this vicinity caused the drying-up of springs that for years have furnished great quantities of water daily, and opened up many new ones in places where their existence was least suspected. Hood's Hot Springs, a famous health and pleasure resort, fourteen miles west of Cloverdale, a gusher for many years, has absolutely dried up, and no trace of water can be found. Its destruction is a great loss to the place.

At the pumping station of the Santa Rosa municipal water system, there is more water than usual. In fact, the pumps are not capable of handling it. The increased supply was developed by the earthquake. Previous efforts to obtain the quantity of water desired had failed, although large sums of money were spent in sinking wells.

As Fraternal Delegate from North, Vice-President Addresses Southern Methodistists in Conference.

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) May 18.—The feature of today's session of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, was the address tonight by Vice-President C. W. Fairbanks, fraternal delegate from the Northern Methodist Episcopal Church. The immense auditorium of the First Church was packed to hear the address, and hundreds were turned away, unable to gain entrance.

As Vice-President Fairbanks entered the church, every one rose. The Vice-President expressed his pleasure at coming South as a fraternal messenger from the Methodist Episcopal Church. When he had concluded, the delegates joined in singing "My Country, 'Tis of Thee."

The Vice-President spent the day in Birmingham, and delivered five speeches. The first was a short talk to the General Conference this morning. At the Country Club, he spoke to representatives of the commercial bodies of this city. At 4 o'clock he made a public speech at Capitol Park. At 6 o'clock he gave the formal address to the conference; and following this there was a banquet by the Scottish Rite Masons at the Temple, where the Vice-President spoke briefly. His party will leave for Atlanta tomorrow morning.

The conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, today voted to establish, at a cost of $275,000, a representative church at Washington. Dr. George B. Winter of Nashville was selected editor of the Christian Advocate.

LONDON, May 19.—The Paris correspondent of the Chronicle asserts that there is no doubt that the woman who committed suicide at Pimlico, England, March 16, and whose body was first said to have been that of Marie Duval, and then later that of Mrs. Cushing of Boston, was a Russian spy who had been sentenced to death by nihilists for betraying their secrets.

The correspondent alleges that this woman fled from Russia to escape vengeance and that after long wandering in Europe and America she committed suicide in despair of avoiding fate.

German Gun Maker's Plans for Revenge Because of Broken Agreement.

His Daughter to Wed the Superintendent of the Leonaardt Company.

Latter House Already Operating Against Monopoly. Salesman's Story.

DENVER (Colo.) May 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The fortune of Bertha Krupp, the richest woman in the world, left her by her father, the German gunmaker, may be used to fight the American Steel and Wire Company in America.

Miss Krupp will marry M. Leonhardt of the German firm of Leonhardt & Co., steel and wire men, according to Otto Kaufman, traveling salesman for the Leonhardt company, who was in Denver today on his way to New York. There has been doubt about the identity of her fiancé.

CREW IN THE BUSINESS. M. Leonhardt comes of a good German family. He secured a position in the Krupp establishment when he was 17 years old. He rose to be one of Krupp's superintendents, and the gunmaker placed confidence in his integrity and ability.

DIVIDING THE EARTH. The American Steel and Wire Company entered into an agreement with the Krupp interests, dividing the iron and steel trade of the world. The American company was to confine itself to supplying the trade for the three Americas, while the German concern supplied the rest of the earth with iron and steel.

THE INEVITABLE "BREAK." The American steel trust broke this agreement by selling steel rails in the Orient and in Russia. In retaliation, Krupp founded the house of Leonhardt & Co. and gave Superintendent Leonhardt the controlling interest in the firm. His instructions were to fight the American trust in its own territory. The salesmen of Leonhardt & Co. are well known in America now, in consequence.

Leonhardt is continuing the fight on the American steel trust, begun by Herr Krupp, and it is said when he has legal control of his wife's fortune, a large portion of it will be used in the commercial contest for supremacy between the German and American steel trusts.

Kaufman did not state when the marriage between Miss Krupp and Leonhardt would take place, but intimated it would be this year.

GERMAN STEEL TRADE LOCKOUT AGAINST STRIKERS.

BERLIN, May 18.—The association of Berlin Metal Working establishments voted today to lock out 60 per cent of the workmen June 25, carrying out the recent decision of the National Association, which voted this action to counteract the strikes in various cities.

The conditions in the iron and steel trade have undergone marked improvement since May 1, and all the prices of nearly all unfinished goods have advanced. It is reported that the German steel trust has received heavy orders from San Francisco, but the output of export steel has been declining lately, owing to increased home demands.

ADDICKS OUT OF THE RACE.

Candidate for Years for Delaware's Senatorship Retires in Favor of Col. Dupont.

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—J. Edward Addicks, who has for years been a candidate for a seat in the United States Senate from Delaware, arrived here tonight from Washington, where he saw Chairman Cortelyou of the Republican National Committee and announced that he was for Col. Henry A. Dupont of Wilmington for the vacant seat in the Senate.

Mr. Addicks said that there was no longer any doubt that there will be a call for a special session of the Delaware Legislature within a few days, that a Senator will be promptly elected and that Col. Dupont will be the man Addicks in justifying his retirement said that unless he took such a step the State of Delaware would go Democratic at the next election, and his work of years would go all for naught.

SENATE PASSES THE RATE BILL

Foraker and Two Democrats Vote Against It.

Seventy-one Senators Vote in Favor of It.

Important Restrictions Placed Upon the Railroads.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Points in the Rate Bill, as changed by the Senate:

The Interstate Commerce Commission shall fix the maximum rate to be charged where complaints are made.

These rates so fixed may be reviewed to the fullest extent by the courts.

Before rates can be suspended an interlocutory decree, notice of five days and a hearing before three judges is necessary.

The rate fixed and passed upon goes into effect within thirty days, and may remain in force for two years.

The commission may fix joint through rates and part-rates.

The commission is to consist of five members, as at present.

Railroads and carriers are prohibited from dealing in the commodities they carry.

Pipe lines, private car lines, express companies and passenger companies are made common carriers.

Rebates are punished by imprisonment of either party, or fines of from $1000 to $20,000.

A party soliciting or compelling a rebate may also be fined three times the amount of rebate.

Railroads must keep a uniform set of books, accessible to the commission at all times.

Railroads must also make uniform reports.

Giving of interstate passes, except in stated cases, is prohibited.

The commission may compel switch and siding connections.

After a rate which the commission made is suspended or an injunction made permanent, appeal shall lie direct to the Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—After seventy days of almost continuous deliberation, the Senate, today, at 4:53 o'clock p.m., passed the Railroad Rate Bill by the practically unanimous vote of 71 to 3. The three negative votes were cast by Senators Foraker (Rep.) of Ohio, and Morgan and Pettus (Dem.) of Alabama.

There was a somewhat larger attendance of Senators than usual, but the attendance in the galleries was by no means abnormal, and there was no manifestation of any kind when the result was announced. There was, however, an almost general sigh of relief among the Senators.

ITS PLACE IN HISTORY.

The bill has received more attention from the Senate and from the country at large than any measure that has been before Congress since the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman Act in 1926. It was made the unfinished business March 12. From March 12 to May 4 the bill was under general discussion without limitation on the duration of speeches. Fifty-eight of which were delivered. Many of these were prepared with great care, and two of them consumed more than a day's time in delivery. Senator La Follette, the junior Senator from Wisconsin, spoke for three days, and Senator Daniel of Virginia for two days. Senators Bailey, Foraker, Lodge, Bailey, Doliver and others spoke for an entire day.

FIFTEEN-MINUTE TALKS.

For twelve days, the bill has been under consideration under a rule limiting speeches to fifteen minutes each. The debate has at all times been earnest and animated, but, for the most part, devoid of personality as between Senators. The past few days, however, called out some caustic criticisms of the President and some newspaper correspondents by Senator Bailey.

In addition to passing the bill, the proceedings today consisted in concluding the consideration of the amendments as such and the delivery of a number of speeches on the bill. The only amendment adopted was the one offered yesterday by Senator Teller, eliminating the words "in its judgment" from the power given to the Interstate Commerce Commission to fix rates.

PURPOSE OF THE BILL.

The principal purpose of the Rate Bill, passed today, is to permit the Interstate Commerce Commission to fix rates. The provision conferring this authority is found in the fourth section of the bill. The new section 15 of the Interstate Commerce Law so as to accomplish this result.

That section directs the commission to investigate complaints of unjust and unreasonable charges on the part of the common carriers in the transportation of persons or property, or of regulations or of practices affecting such charges.

INVESTIGATION OF RATES.

It also authorized an inquiry as to whether the rates or practices are "unjustly discriminatory or unduly preferential, or prejudicial, or otherwise in violation of the act," and in case any of these conditions are found to exist, the commission is empowered to determine and prescribe what will be the just and reasonable maximum rate and what regulation or practice is "just reasonable and fair."

FURTHER AUTHORITY.

Further authority is given the commission to enforce its orders, and they are to go into effect within thirty days and continue in force for two years, unless suspended, modified or set aside by the commission or by a court of competent jurisdiction. Other powers conferred by this section are to apportion joint fares, establish through routes and maximum joint rates and prescribe their division, and to determine the compensation to be paid to shippers doing service for carriers.

Section 16 of the present law is so changed as to provide for an award of pecuniary damages to complainants found entitled, and in case payment is not promptly made to the complainant with this award, the beneficiary is authorized to file suit in a United States Circuit Court to compel compliance.

The finding of the commission is to be received as prima facie evidence of the facts in such suit, and the petitioner is absolved from all liability for acts.

Another provision renders legal the service of the orders of the commission through the mails, and provides that these orders shall take effect thirty days after service, unless suspended or modified by the commission, or suspended or set aside by the courts.

A penalty of $5000 for each offense in disobedience of the order is imposed, and the penalty is to accumulate at the rate of $500 a day in case of continuous violation.

COURTS ENFORCE ORDERS.

Orders other than those for money payments are to be enforced by the Federal courts through writs of mandamus or injunction, and in case of appeal to the Supreme Court, these cases are to be given preference over all others, except those of a criminal character.

The bill was amended by the Senate so as to give the United States Circuit Courts jurisdiction to entertain suits brought to annul or change the orders of the commission, and to provide against the granting of interlocutory appeals from such orders direct to the Supreme Court.

"RAILROADS" DEFINED.

Other provisions extend the definition of the word "railroad" so as to make it include switches, spurs, tracks, terminal facilities, freight depots, yards and grounds, and defines the word "transportation" so as to make it include the carrying of passengers or freight by rail, or by any other mode of transportation, or by any combination of modes of transportation.

The bill is amended by the Senate so as to make it the duty of carriers to furnish special-car service on reasonable request.

OIL AND EXPRESS LINES.

Senate amendments include oil pipe lines, express companies, sleeping-car companies, under the head of common carriers, and make them amenable to the requirements of the bill.

Other Senate modifications prohibit the issuance of passes, or the granting of special fares, to any class of passengers over another; prohibit railroad companies from transporting commodities produced by themselves, require such companies to put in switches at the reasonable request of shippers, prohibit the granting or acceptance of rebates, and prohibit the imprisonment of either party, or fines of from $1000 to $20,000.

REPORTS REQUIRED.

There are also changes in the law relative to the reports to be required of common carriers, and a penalty of $100 a day is imposed for failure to comply with the report requirement.

The commission is given access to the accounts of the companies affected by the act, but examiners are forbidden, under penalty of heavy fine and imprisonment, from divulging the facts ascertained. Fines of $500 for each failure to keep proper accounts is provided. A maximum of $1000 is made punishable by fine and imprisonment.

Circuit and District courts of the United States are given jurisdiction over all complaints by the commission of failure to comply with its orders, and such courts are to entertain writs of mandamus compelling such compliance.

THE DEBATE IN SENATE.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—When the Rate Bill was taken up today, the Senate resumed consideration of the Teller amendment, striking out of the provision giving to the Interstate Commerce Commission the power to prescribe rates, the words "in its judgment."

Senator Daniel, the junior Senator from Vermont, took the first speech on the Teller provision, taking the position that the bill, in the presence of the words "in its judgment," would not have the effect of violating the bill, but, he contended, it had been declared, indeed, that neither the presence nor the absence of the words could affect the measure.

Senator Lodge said there had not been any understanding of the position in the bill, and understanding or no understanding, he wanted the words stricken out.

"If the words remain and the law is declared unconstitutional, the people will be held responsible," he said. In reply to Mr. Foraker, Mr. Lodge said he knew nothing about any agreement.

Senator Foraker said also that he knew of no such agreement.

Senator Long said that Senator Allison had stated yesterday that the retention of the words "in its judgment" was a part of the amendments presented by him.

Senator Carter announced his intention to vote against the retention of the words, knowing that the amendments would be dealt with in conference.

WORDS STRICKEN OUT.

The amendment was adopted, 50 to 24, as follows:

Yeas—Senators Alger, Alee, Anthony, Bacon, Bailey, Berry, Blackburn, Brandegee, Riley, Burdett, Carmack, Carter, Clark (Mont.), Clark (Wyo.), Clay, Culberson, Dick, Dillingham, Dryden, Flint, Foraker, Gurnea, Gallinger, Hale, Harbo, Hiram, Keane, Knox, Lodge, McEnerney, McCumber, Mallory, Martin, Millard, Morgan, Nelson, Overman, Penrose, Pettus, Platt, Rayner, Scott, Simmons, Spooner, Stone, Tallaferro, Teller, Tillman, Wetmore—50.

Nays—Senators Allison, Beveridge, Burkett, Clapp, Clarke (Ark.), Crane, Cullom, Daniel, Doliver, Elkins, Frye, Fulton, Geary, Hemmeyer, Hopkins, La Follette, Latimer, Long, McLaurin, McPherson, Newlands, Perkins, Piles, Warner—24.

LA FOLLETTE ON PASSES.

The clerk was permitted to read the amendments, covering ten pages without interruption, and it looked as if he might proceed to the end, when Senator La Follette offered an amendment to grant passes to the officers of the Railroad Employees' Association. The amendment was adopted.

At 1:45 p.m. the reading of the amendments was concluded, and after announcing the third reading of the bill, the chair asked: "Shall the bill pass?" There were, however, some general speeches to be made, and the passage was deferred.

MR. RAYNER'S LAMENT.

Mr. Rayner of Maryland said he expected the President would change his opinion again before the bill was finally enacted, and get back to the Long amendment. There was no telling but that, within a few days, some "new Chandler of fortune" might get possession of the President and get him back to the ordinary terminus.

The President resembled a kaleidoscope. This was a great misfortune for natural disturbances, and the President seemed jealous of the earth-shakes and volcanoes. He went tearing through space, oblivious of where he came from, and with no conception of where he was going.

The President, said Mr. Rayner, may have united his party in the Senate, but he had divided the people. He had decreed without a hearing and amendment destroyed the bill, and deplored the President's interference.

School for Burglars.

For some time past, says a correspondent from Rome of the London Mail, the police of Palermo have been completely baffled by a series of daring burglaries, committed, as they thought, by a single individual.

It has now, however, thanks to the skill of Police Inspector Sangiorgi, been ascertained that the burglaries were directed from a kind of burglar's institute, or club, under the head of one of the cleverest and most dangerous criminals in the annals of Italian police.

The burglaries were all carried out on similar lines, so as to make the police believe that they had been perpetrated by one and the same person.

When the inspector, accompanied by a strong force of men, entered the "institute" they found the "students" playing tennis in the beautifully kept gardens. In one room four others were playing cards, while the instructor was teaching a master was teaching the game of tactics with daggers.

One of the special purposes of the "institute" was to train the "students" in the use of the "stiletto," a small dagger, which proved to be a deadly horned viper.

His body was covered with wounds, and he offered no assistance. Suddenly appearing an empty water bottle, the canon, with great presence of mind, forced the student to drop the stiletto, and the canon, with a sudden movement, seized the student by the neck and slowly uncoiled the remainder of its anatomy from his hand. A Sageacious Elephant.

A writer in a Bombay journal describes an instance of an elephant's sagacity that is out of the ordinary. He says: "The battering train was going to the siege of Seringapatam, when an artilleryman, who was seated on the tumbrel of one of the guns, by some accident, fell almost under the hind wheel. The elephant stationed behind the gun, seeing the man's danger, instantly and without any order from his keeper, lifted up the wheel with its trunk and kept it suspended till the carriage had passed clear of him." EARLY SPRING DOPE.

It's me to the land where the dicker birds sing. Where the little green bullets now bud; Where the tree branches swing in the breeze of the spring. And the roads are all rivers of mud. It's me for the haunts of the plover and snipe. To live in the woods is my plan; (Oh, fill up my pipe, for the time is now ripe. For my annual dream that I can.)

It's me for the scent of the fresh country air. And the home of the fresh country day. The place where they stare at the cut of your hair. While the horse chews their whiskers for hay.

It's me to the spot in the ten-acre lot Where the meadowlark sings to the fence; (Don't fiddle my cot or as likely as not I'll have to wake up and talk sense.)

So away to the dell where the tiddler-wink. So merrily warbles his tune, Where the fierce bobolink to the spring comes to drink. And the polecat sings songs to the moon.

Oh, come to the hill where the proud whippoorwill. Is digging his rock-hidden lair— (Oh, cook me a pill that will cure me or kill— I am dippy and dopey for fair!)

Lion's Peculiarities.

A wild animal in a cage cannot be made to give up anything that it has in its cage without severe punishment. This was learned yesterday when Richard Havemann, the owner of five lions, two bears and a Bengal tiger, gathered the stage hands together and gave them instructions.

"Keep away from the cages," said Herr Havemann, in his broken English. "The animals they grab everything and makes not any difference what they get in the cage, you can no get it out unless you water in a hose on them. Hands, leg, arm, hat or anything, all the same. They no will give it up."—(Kansas City Star.)

Where Illiteracy is Rare.

The lowest rate of illiteracy in the world is found in Sweden, Norway and Germany. In the two first-named countries there is no person above the age of 10 years who cannot read and write unless he has forgotten those accomplishments or his mental faculties are so feeble that he has not been able to acquire them. This fact is so well understood that the census enumerators do not inquire whether a person can read or write. It is not considered necessary to do so. Education is compulsory. Every child is required to attend school and there is no community too small or too poor to provide educational facilities for its children. The same is true, in a great measure, throughout Germany. The only people who cannot read and write are the feeble-minded and the aged, who have outgrown their knowledge. (Washington Star.)

WOMAN RUINS HER SISTER.

POLICE CLAIM EVIDENCE OF HEARTLESS CRIME.

Procure, Now in City Jail, Brings Young Sister from Germany to Force Her Into a Life of Shame. Her Consort Charged With Being a Party to the Crime.

Since Lena Morten was arrested and sentenced to six months in the City Jail, April 11, the police have been probing the case with the hope of securing evidence against the notorious procuree which would enable them to bring a more serious charge against her, but she was arrested for forcing a girl whom she called Rosa Morten, aged 16, into a life of shame.

At the time of her arrest the Morten woman said Rosa was her cousin, but the latest and most startling development in the case is the discovery that the girl is the younger sister of the woman who forced her into a life of shame. The police have further learned that the Morten woman's real name is Lena Wolf, and the girl's name is Frieda Wolf, not Schmidt or Morten.

Sergeant of Police Craig and Patrolman Hockley discovered the woman and her sister Frieda the second day the girl had been forced to occupy a room in a Temple street rooming-house and they did what they could to save the girl. The procuree was arrested and sentenced to serve six months, but the officers could not provide a home for Frieda.

Lena Morten has been living in Santa Monica for several years with a man calling himself Edward Lawrence. Frieda was brought to this country from Germany by her sister and the police have evidence which, they say, shows that Lawrence accomplished the ruin of the girl by force.

Since the incarceration of the woman in the City Jail Frieda has been discovered in Santa Monica still in the power of the man, Lawrence. The local authorities, in an effort to save the girl and land Lawrence where he belongs, informed City Marshal Barreto of Santa Monica of the evidence in hand, but the beach city official has declined to act for reasons he has not made public.

The officers who rescued the young girl from the dive in this city have interested themselves in her case and the matter may be laid before Sheriff White and an effort made to get the county authorities to act.

Officers say the deeper they probe the blacker they find the characters and actions of Lena Wolf and her consort, Edward Lawrence.

NO CONFETTI TO BE THROWN.

POLICE CHIEF BITS DOWN ON FIESTA FROLICKING.

Orders Arrest of Offenders—Grand Marshal Hammel Issues Final Instructions to Division Commanders of Floral Parade—San Francisco Potatoes Coming.

There will be no confetti thrown during the coming Fiesta, according to the orders issued by Chief of Police Egan yesterday. He has issued general instructions to the entire police force to arrest on the spot any one caught throwing confetti or using flour sacks or other things of like nature. He has also sent a warning to all merchants and hotel and rooming-house keepers to be on the alert, as a general influx of crooks is expected. He requests that anything of a suspicious nature be immediately reported to the police.

Final instructions were issued last night by Grand Marshal W. A. Hammel to all division marshals for the floral parade. Marshals and aides are to report to the grand marshal not later than 2:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. Each marshal will have entire charge of the formation of the division to which he has been assigned. To each division marshal will be assigned one of the grand marshal's aides.

Participants in the parade are required to report to the marshal of the division to which the entrant is assigned, and each will have a place in the order of his arrival. The floral parade will move at 11 o'clock, sharp. Col. George Filmer, Potentate of Islam Temple, San Francisco, will reach here Monday morning and will take charge that evening of the Shrine division of the electrical parade. Many members of the Islam Temple will accompany him.

To aid in the decorations of vehicles for the floral parade, Mrs. W. M. Hamaker, No. 1025 North Figueroa street, has advised that she has many yellow marguerites which she will give to all callers who will use them in adorning their equipages. It is expected that many others will follow this example.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY AT RHYOLITE.

MINER KILLS WIFE AND IS SHOT DEAD BY SHERIFF.

Man About to Get Divorce from Spouse Empties Gun in Her Face and Then Tries to End Officer's Career, but Letter is Too Quick for Him.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—F.M.) GOLDFIELD (Nev.), May 10.—Rhyolite, the principal town in the Bullfrog mining district, was the scene today of a double tragedy. Steven O'Brien, a miner, shot and killed his wife. Deputy Sheriff McDonald attempted to arrest and arrest O'Brien, who drew a revolver and was about to shoot, when McDonald fired and O'Brien dropped dead. The shooting occurred at the Hotel Golden, on Goldfield street.

O'Brien had been on bad terms with his family for some time and his wife was about to proceed to get a divorce. He entered the house today and after a few heated words shot his wife in the face. She was carried to a drug store, where she died. O'Brien came from the lodging-house where he lived. In the meantime people had heard of the shooting and a great crowd surrounded the place and preparations were made to mob and hang him. Deputy Sheriff McDonald and Justice of the Peace John Donnelly rushed to the scene.

As O'Brien was attempting to make his escape, carrying a pistol in one hand and a miner's candlestick in the other, McDonald arrived, and in the melee O'Brien stabbed him just below the heart with the sharp end of the miner's candlestick, just breaking the skin. When McDonald ordered O'Brien to drop the pistol and candlestick he refused and made an effort to shoot McDonald. McDonald anticipated him and shot him through the heart. O'Brien dropped dead in his tracks.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

John Kellogg, a negro, was charged with the murder of William Pilkerton by the coroner's jury yesterday afternoon. Pilkerton was shot by Kellogg in a fight in Santa Fe avenue Tuesday night. The police have thus far obtained no trace of Kellogg's whereabouts.

BAFFLES POLICE.

R. C. Beggs, ex-convict, still succeeds in eluding the police. The condition of Mrs. Nellie Beggs, his wife, became more serious last night. The woman was shot four times by her husband Wednesday morning at their home No. 1011 Diamond street. Beggs disappeared immediately after the shooting and has not yet been apprehended. The woman is in the County Hospital.

VALLEY DEBATORS WIN.

San Fernando High School Scores Highest Number of Points on Railway Rate Discussion.

The championship of the Inter-scholastic Debating Association of Los Angeles County, which was held at the Harvard School last evening, was won by the San Fernando High School by the score of 445 points, with Whittier High School second, with a score of 434 points. The judges decided in favor of Edward Ingham of San Fernando High School for first speaker, with a score of 92 points, and Neil Pendleton of Harvard School, second, with a score of 90 2-3 points out of a possible 100. The trophy, a beautiful engraved clock, was the gift of Judge D. Wilbur, which is to become the property of the school winning it three successive times.

The new Harvard Hall was prettily decorated with the colors of the different competitors, and the six hundred participants who gathered made the walls resound with their slogans. An attractive programme was rendered along with the debates, the Harvard Glee Club winning all the honors. The debate was "Resolved, that the regulation of railway rates should be under private and not under Federal control," and was won by the negative, with a score of 260 2-3 points against 248 1-3 points for the affirmative, out of a possible 300.

BACKACHE? IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS!

Mrs. Estella Clayton, of Toronto, Canada, Suffered Intensely From Pain in Back and Kidneys. Completely Cured by

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

A TRIAL BOTTLE OF THE WORLD'S GREATEST KIDNEY CURE SENT ABSOLUTELY FREE TO EVERY READER OF THE TIMES WHO SUFFERS FROM KIDNEY, LIVER, BLADDER OR BLOOD DISEASE.

If the kidneys become diseased and are unable to do their work properly, the liver becomes affected, then the bladder, urinary organs, the blood and the stomach. The blood becomes impoverished, the urine becomes muddy, and will have brick-dust sediment if it stands for 24 hours; the liver becomes torpid, and pains in the back are almost constant as the system becomes pregnant with the disease.

If any trace of kidney disease shows itself, get a bottle of WARNER'S SAFE CURE. It will purify and strengthen the kidneys, kill the disease germs, arrest the serious complications that are bound to arise, and restore perfect health.

Suffered Intensely
Mrs. Estella Clayton, a noted Canadian society woman, says: "We have used Warner's Safe Cure in our family for several years. It cured my husband of backache and kidney trouble, and Warner's also cured me of a serious cold that settled in my back, and caused kidney trouble which caused me intense suffering and pain."—Mrs. Estella Clayton, 54 Adelaide St., Toronto, Canada.

Kidney Disease
WARNER'S SAFE CURE is purely vegetable and contains no harmful drugs. It is prescribed by doctors and used in leading hospitals for diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood.

WARNER'S SAFE PILLS move the bowels gently and aid a speedy cure.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE is put up in two regular sizes and sold by all druggists, or direct, 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Refuse substitutes.

Trial Bottle Free
To convince every sufferer from diseases of the liver, kidneys, bladder and blood that WARNER'S SAFE CURE will cure them, a trial bottle will be sent ABSOLUTELY FREE to any one who will write WARNER'S SAFE CURE CO., Rochester, N. Y., and mention having seen this liberal offer in The Times. The genuineness of this offer is fully guaranteed. Our doctors will send medical booklet, containing symptoms and treatment of each disease, and many convincing testimonials. FREE to any one who will write

Get on the Honor Roll

The Young Men's Christian Association still needs about $70,000 to complete its building fund of $350,000, and this amount must be raised before 10:30 o'clock next Monday night. In this work the Board of Directors, who have subscribed more than $150,000, must have whole-hearted aid from the residents of Los Angeles. Men who have already given should constitute themselves a voluntary canvassing committee to see that their neighbors bear a share of the responsibility as well as the credit of this undertaking. Men who have thus far withheld their support have no further excuse for doing so. Every dollar that is given is a step in the direction of success. Every subscription, however small, is an earnest of loyalty to Los Angeles and unquestioning faith in the future of our city. Is there a man in this city who will let himself be outdone in public spirit and generosity by the citizens who have subscribed so liberally to the building fund of the Young Men's Christian Association? Is there a single prosperous Los Angeles who will permit this building movement to become a success without securing the privilege of a substantial share in raising the amount needed?

GET ON THE HONOR ROLL of those who are striving for the Greater Los Angeles. Do not longer let these seventeen men, who have given nearly one-half of the whole amount to be raised, besides days and weeks of their valuable time, bear your burden. The Young Men's Christian Association is as much for you as for them. Get on the Honor Roll quickly. The terms are so arranged that subscriptions will fall on you lightly. Put yourself down for one, one hundred, or one thousand dollars. DO IT TODAY. Fill out the subscription blank printed below and send it to J. E. Carr, chairman of the executive committee, 230-231 O. T. Johnson Building.

EXECUTIVE CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE.

J. E. Carr, Chairman.
A. B. Caga, W. S. Bartlett, E. T. Earl,
O. T. Johnson, Jas. G. Warren.

Hereby acknowledging that the erection of a handsome YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION building in LOS ANGELES would be an ornament to the city and a benefit to myself and the community, and desiring to aid such organization in its work, and particularly in raising a fund of $350,000 for such a building and equipment of same, and in consideration thereof and of subscriptions for like purpose made by others, I do hereby subscribe to said building fund and promise to pay to the Young Men's Christian Association of Los Angeles, California, the sum of Dollars ($.....)

Twenty (20) per cent. of said sum sixty days after $200,000 has been subscribed, and ten (10) per cent. of said sum monthly upon the first day of each month thereafter until fully paid.

And I hereby bind my heirs, executors or assigns for payment of same.

Date 1929..... [Signed].....

Cup for Seamanship.

SAN DIEGO, May 10.—Frank M. Bell of El Paso, Tex., has given the San Diego Yacht Club a cup to be known as the Seamanship Challenge Cup. All the races of the cup are to be decided on the manner on which the boats are handled, how the anchor is weighed, the sails set and the crews deport themselves. The man who wins the cup at the end of the season will be presented with a miniature cup to hold as his own in case he should lose the original cup in the subsequent races. A schedule of summer races and cruises has been arranged.

RUINS OF SAN FRANCISCO.

Birdseye View Taken Especially for "The Times" from an Airship 1000 Feet in the Air.

An airship picture taken from an elevation 1000 feet above the city of San Francisco, showing a marvellous view of the ruins of the business section and adjacent territory, has been successfully made by expert operators from Chicago. A large half-tone reproduction, printed on fine book paper, will be given free with each copy of the Times. The undertaking is the result of one of the marvellous inventions of the Times, the great success achieved in taking the wonderful picture will appeal to readers of the Times and thus compensate the publishers for the large expense attached to its making and reproduction. Remember, each copy of the Times which is made, The picture alone is worth three times the price asked for the paper.

A Sermon on Meat

During hot weather be particular. See that you get meats that are germ-proof. Nay, more than that, be sure they have been carefully refrigerated. To have all this all you have to do is to order

The Famous Sentous Meats

These meats are the equal, if they are not really superior, as many say they are, to Eastern meats. When you eat Sentous meats you get all the good and none of the bad. By our system you are assured of pure, clean food. No hauling through dusty, germ-laden roads in open wagons. We ship direct from our packinghouse in closed electric cars to city salesrooms. No handling or dragging of meats by hand. Specially arranged trolleys take up the meat and carry it into chill rooms and thence to refrigerators.

Be sure you get Sentous meats when you ask for them. If you don't know where to buy them ring us up—both phones 1338.

Yes, We Certainly Expect You To Read About These Golf Shirts

Read ads? Of course you do. Silverwood ads, anyway. What's more you believe in them, for we're as honest in the texture of our ad. copy, as in the quality of our shirts. So IF you need shirts, and we know you DO, then most certainly we expect to do business with you. Why?—Because we're showing golf shirts that no other store can afford to sell for the money—(four Silverwood stores pulling together, that's why.)

Not simply BETTER shirts, but such a vast superiority in patterns, workmanship, variety!— You will be just as enthusiastic when you see them—and prices, $1.00 to $3.50. Some for tomorrow?

Classified Liners.

Times "Liner" Advertisers—Important. Note Change of date for Sunday classified advertisements. Commencing Sunday, October 1, 1935, the rate for Sunday "Liner" was raised to 1/4 cent per word for each insertion; minimum charge, 25 cents, as at present. This slight advance is amply justified by the present Sunday circulation of the Times, which averages over 70,000 copies. (When the 1-cent per word rate was established in 1935, the Times Sunday circulation was only 14,000 copies.) The "Liner" rate for the daily—1 cent per word—will stand as at present.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up "The Times" any time of day or night, and secure prompt and careful attention. Rates one cent a word each insertion in the Daily; 1/4 cent per word in the Sunday edition; minimum charge, 25c.

"Liner" (classified) advertisements for Sunday insertion received over the counter or by telephone after 11 o'clock Saturday night will be inserted under heading "To Let in Classified."

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephone advertisements.

Sunday real estate advertisements to be classified properly, must be in the Times office no later than 6 o'clock Saturday night. Rate 1/4 cent per word.

OF THINGS LITERARY.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES)

LONDON, May 6.—Recent happenings at the London auction rooms where literary relics and rare pictures are put up for sale have been calculated to set the community generally to ransacking the second-hand shops in the hope of "finding" what may prove to be small gold mines; if not to them, then to their immediate descendants, anyway. For within the past week, we have seen a print which was bought from a second-hand dealer for $1.75, sold for $250, and a Burns letter that was purchased for $300, disposed of for $1500, not to mention several other similar transactions, one and all of which appear to indicate that the business of nosing out and buying stray treasures of this kind is just about the most profitable that has ever been invented.

At any rate, the "heirs and assigns" of the late Edwin Truman, of Putney, who was once surgeon-dentist to the English royal household, must be uncommonly thankful for his fondness for small speculations of this kind for their worldly condition has been bettered thereby to a really quite amazing extent. Mr. Truman was who snapped up for seven shillings and sixpence—or $175—the print recently sold at Christie's for £450, or $2250, and a lot of his other literary "relics" were almost as successful. For instance, a proof of W. Dickinson's picture of "Elizabeth Stephenson," which Truman bought for sevenpence, was sold four days ago for £300, while one of "Signora Bonelli," by J. Jones, which Truman got for 34 pence, fetched at auction the speedy sum of £225.

It seems that the former court dentist used to spend his Saturday afternoons in "browsing" through second-hand book and print shops, and that in this way he got together a really prodigious collection. The picture that he bought for 17s and sold for £250 is a rare proof of J. McCardell's miniature of T. Hudson's portrait of "Mary, Duchess of Ancaster," and the record price that has been paid for it illustrates vividly the modern craze for rare works of this class.

As for the Burns letter on which so surprising a profit has just been realized, it is generally believed that the London agent who bought it for $1500 was acting for an American customer. And although the price mentioned is the highest that ever has been paid for a single letter by the poet, it is justified in a way, for this epistle is certainly one of the most interesting and valuable that Burns ever wrote. It is a transcript of "Tam Glen," a poem of twenty-nine lines, beginning "As Life used to be in the old days."

The most striking point regarding the sale of this letter, however, is the fact that it and several other literary relics which its owner, Robert Ball—sold at large profits, were originally purchased at an auction which he attended quite by accident. This was in 1885, and having bought the Burns letter for $300, he gave $20 for one written by Mary of Scotland when she was Mary of Guise. This letter was sold for $250, and a letter by Lord Nelson which Mr. Ball bought at the same sale for $65 was disposed of yesterday for $116. It was a little surprising, too, that it did not bring more, for in it Nelson writes to the British general at Malta that wherever he finds the enemy "I shall never ask whether it is neutral territory."

The costly Burns letter which has presumably gone to the United States, was written in December 1788, to the poet's bosom friend, Mr. Dunlop. It is dated "Edinburgh" and covers nine quarto pages. In it Burns says: "Apoor, is not your phrase, 'Auld lang syne' exceedingly impressive. There is an old song and tune which has often thrilled through my soul. You know, I am an enthusiast in old Scots songs."

And later on he says: "I, too, am just now Revolution-mad but it is not the tarantula frenzy of the French Whigs, like an ass's coat capering over the generous hound breathing his last; mine is the madness of an enraged scorpion, shut up in a thimble."

The letter ends: "If my ridges and dirty dunghills are to engross the best part of the functions of my soul, I am immortal, I had better be a rook for a magpie all at once, and then I would not have been plagued with any ideas superior to breaking of eggs and picking up grubs, not to mention barn-door cocks or mallards, creatures with which I could almost exchange lives at any time."

The identity of the actual purchaser of these relics and pictures is seldom disclosed at the time, but it generally proves to be an American. For example, it is stated in today's London newspapers for the first time that Whistler's portrait of Irving as Philip II, which was bought through an agent for $25,000 in last November, is in the collection of George C. Thomas of Philadelphia.

It will be decidedly interesting to see how English readers of the present day receive "Minnigrey," the famous serial story which created such a furore when it was first published in the London Journal in 1849, and which has just started again in that recently revived periodical. "Minnigrey" was written by J. F. Smith, a former professor in the College of Bayeux, who returned to his own country to avoid the French Revolution of 1848, and London Journal in order to tide things over. He proved a wizard, for his first story ran for twenty-six weeks, and extended to more than 600,000 words. By this time he had a great following, but he did not achieve his triumph until a year or two later, when he wrote "Minnigrey." The sensation created by this story carried the Journal all over the world and sent up the circulation to 512,000 copies weekly.

Smith was a Bohemian of the old school, and it was occasionally hard to find him when press-day came round. When once discovered, however, he could see himself at a table with a bottle of port within reach and go steadily to work, turning out sheet after sheet until the 8000 words of the weekly instalment were accomplished. Later on in his history, Mark Lemon became editor of the London Journal, and he it was who tried the experiment of publishing stories by Charles Reade and Sir Walter Scott. The experiment was not a success, neither "Kenilworth" nor "White Lie," the respective novels chosen, being suitable for serial publication. The original London Journal gave up the ghost several years ago, but revived by an enterprising publishing house, there is every chance that the venerable paper may again be made a valuable property.

Uncle Sam's Ocean Road-Making.

WONDERFUL COMPUTATIONS THAT HELP TELL THE MARINER WHERE HE IS AT ANY GIVEN POINT.

By Julius Muller.

(SPECIALLY CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES.)

There is a government department which is quite unknown, both by name and reputation, to most Americans. It rarely figures in the great legislative debates, and is not mentioned in the newspapers once in a blue moon. It has not even achieved a scandal. Its title is unimpressive and only sailors and scientists know what it means—the Hydrographic Office of the Bureau of Equipment of the Navy Department.

Yet were it not for this apparently obscure department and another similar one belonging to Great Britain, our ocean-borne commerce would be days later arriving at its destined ports. The flying liners could not clip hours off records. Marine insurance rates would be vastly higher. More important than all these matters, however, is the fact that the great part of the world's oceans have roads laid out across them as plain to the sailor as the roads of a township are to the farmer.

Invisible roads are these, yet more fixed and unalterable than those of the solid land. The latter may be demolished in a moment by landslide or washout. The ocean roads are dotted by star and planet and are as true as those celestial bodies themselves.

GUIDING THE SHIPS.
Whenever a ship leaves any deep-sea port of the United States, her chart-room is supplied by Uncle Sam with a rich marine library, every bit of which has been brought practically up to the day of sailing, partially by written corrections and partially by engraved plate corrections. This library contains among the books one that gives elaborate sailing directions of great ports, describing the channels, character of bottom, land-marks, lighthouses and signals, and telling what the prevailing winds and currents are, the dangers of local fog, pilot, quarantine, customs and anchorage rules, etc.

Another book describes all the light-houses, bell buoys, range marks, beacons, fog signals and danger marks of a coast, with pictures of the important and dangerous shoals. How they appear to the mariner looking at them from the sea. The exact latitude and longitude of each mark or light is given. The range of each light-beam is stated accurately. Every peculiarity of each light-house is described so clearly that a captain who has never approached the coast before can recognize it absolutely, and is in no danger of confounding it with any other light.

Still another book contains wonderful figures—literal masterpieces of human achievement in pure mathematics known as azimuth tables. These tables give the true bearings of all celestial bodies between 24 and 70 degrees of declination, at intervals of ten minutes of time for the entire circle of the heavens and for parallels of latitude extending to 70 degrees. In connection with other azimuth tables, which give the true bearings of the sun and other celestial bodies within ecliptic limits, these enable the navigator to "find himself" at any moment of the day or night, without waiting for "shoot the sun" at noon, as was necessary in the past.

Without these tables, the great fires would not be able to keep their course to a hair's breadth as they do now, and thus would lose much time by deviating from the shortest line, for the sun too fast for the sun to be of value for fine observations.

A small pile of weekly notices to mariners is another valuable part of this ship library. These notices are newspapers, giving the very latest information on matters pertaining to safe navigation in all parts of the world, such as the establishment of new lights, discontinuance of defective workings of others, discoveries of rocks, shoals, and other dangers, recommendations as to the safest routes, etc.

There are scores of charts. Some are many yards square. All are beautiful specimens of the highest degree of the engravers' art, in copper plate, steel and lithography. Some show every channel and shoal and shoal, and are covered with figures as closely as they can be crowded, showing the exact depths of water. Others show the earth's magnetic elements. There are wind charts and weather charts, ice charts and derelict charts.

MAKING THE GREAT CHARTS.
Many of these charts are the work of our most famous naval officers, and they were prepared by "inglorious" but extremely hazardous and industrious work that required courage and knowledge in equally great degree.

Thus, Commodore Wilkes laid the great foundation for the charts of the Grand Banks, the Pacific and the Antarctic. Commodore Perry made charts of Japan's waters that are accurate today. The North Pacific and the Behring Sea were charted by Commodore Rodgers and Commodore Berry and Stockton. Lieut. Lynch surveyed the Dead Sea. Admirals Belknap, Erben and Barker and Capt. Tanner did famous work in the Pacific. Brooke and S. P. Lee founded the hydrographic service of the Atlantic. Capt. Mahan was an expert hydrographic surveyor. Admiral Porter was noted for his coast surveys. Capt. Sigbee did epochal work in deep sea sounding, and among other things discovered the amazing hole in the tropical seas which is known as the Sigbee Deep. Admirals Dewey, Clark and Philip, all Spanish War heroes, have contributed many of the best charts in the world.

In the work of making a coast chart is slow, incessant labor, day by day, hour by hour, in launches and small boats. The officers of the survey must know astronomy, geometry, algebra, trigonometry and all the other higher mathematics, besides possessing an accurate knowledge of tides, winds and other sea phenomena. With sounding machines, range finders, azimuth tables and logarithms they must lie out in the ocean in their plunging little craft and locate each spot in the trackless sea as positively as if it were marked by street signs.

In the evening they return to the surveying vessel and put down the results of the day's work on a great map, which is called a preliminary sheet. Although this map is called preliminary, it is prepared with perfect accuracy and with a sufficient degree of delicate draughtsmanship to demonstrate clearly any inaccuracies as the work progresses. When finished it is sent with the records of astronomical observations, triangulation, topography, tides, currents, etc., from the surveying vessel to the Hydrographic Office. There, in the division of chart construction, managed by one of the most thoroughly equipped hydrographic engineers in the world, the work is revised carefully in every detail. Then a "smooth sheet" is prepared, and from this comes the working chart, either by engraved copper-plate or by a lithographic process.

Soon as the finished chart is printed all the charts of the navy serving in the locality which it indicates are supplied with it. The merchant vessels of all nations can obtain it from the Hydrographic Office. All these publications are either furnished free or at actual cost of printing.

THE PILOT CHART OF THE ATLANTIC.

One of the most interesting and valuable charts published by the office is the monthly pilot chart of the North Atlantic Ocean.

To make this chart, a blank observation book is furnished to more than two thousand merchant and naval captains. In this all the observations are required to note their data simultaneously, wherever they may be, once a day and at the same instant of time—Greenwich mean noon.

The observations thus recorded give the direction and force of the wind, the reading of the barometer and thermometer, the temperature of the water, the character and percentage of cloud visible and the character of the sea. Immediately on arrival in a port these reports are sent either by mail or through the United States consul to the Hydrographic Office, where the information is plotted on a chart.

This chart is divided into squares of 5 degrees of latitude and 5 degrees of longitude, and each element of information, except clouds and the state of the sea is indicated in its respective square by a particular symbol.

As the records of sailing vessels often do not reach the hydrographic office for a long time it requires many months before all the records for any one year for each individual square can be collected and plotted.

A separate chart is used for each day in the year. Finally each element is averaged for each month, and the forecast, barometric and thermometric data and steamer and sailing vessel routes are noted in blue.

All matter noted in red relates to what has actually occurred in the past and is variable in character. For instance, there are masses of red lines which represent the paths of the centers of storms that have occurred during the previous five years.

Derelicts and wrecks, drifting buoys, icebergs and field ice, which have been during the preceding month, are noted in red, and as fast as they are reported in a new locality red lines are drawn, showing just how they have drifted.

This chart thus becomes a continuous warning to seamen for the month on the first day of which it is issued, and is of immense benefit in shortening ocean travel and lessening dangers to life and property. This chart is considered so important that the agents of great transatlantic liners telegraph the positions of wrecks, derelicts and ice to their home offices as soon as they are informed of them by the Hydrographic Office or by its branch offices along our Atlantic seaboard.

SPYING ON THE STORMS.

The main or sea part of the chart is divided up into 5-degree squares, in the center of each one of which is a small circle from which radiate arrows, each one pointing toward the center. These arrows indicate the direction in which winds may be expected to blow, the number of feathers indicating the force by Beaufort's scale.

The number of hours in each one hundred the wind will blow from that direction is found by transferring the length of the arrow to a scale printed below. The number of feathers indicates the force of the wind. Thus in a given case, a captain may expect to find in each one hundred hours a N.E. wind with a force of 3 for 18 hours; an east wind with force of 3 for 10 hours; a S.E. wind, force of 4 for 24 hours; a S.W. wind, force of 3 for 25 hours; and a S.W. wind, force of 3 for 10 hours.

The figure in the central circle (13 for instance) indicates thirteen hours of calm, light airs and variable winds. The small black arrows point out the average set of currents, whether regular or drift.

THE WEIRD SEA WAIFS.

During the interval of seven years the total number of derelicts reported amounted to 1623, of which 482 had been identified by name. This means an average of nineteen per month—that is, it is reasonable to believe that there are never less than nineteen of these "sea waifs" in the North Atlantic all the time. And the records of the Hydrographic Office show that the average time a derelict remains afloat is about thirty days.

A three-masted schooner, the "Fanny E. Wolston," was abandoned on October 15, 1891, and seen after that for 1101 days—three years and six days—at the end of which time, after traveling about 9000 miles, she disappeared.

The famous lumber-laden schooner, "W. L. White," which has been the subject of innumerable magazine and newspaper articles, and even of poems and fiction, was abandoned water-logged about eighty miles off the Cape of Delaware during the great blizzard of March, 1888. She drifted 5910 miles, following the Gulf Stream a good way across the Atlantic and about eleven months later she stranded on one of the Hebrides, having been sighted and reported forty-five times during the interval. For more than six months she was a constant and terrible menace to trans-Atlantic commerce.

Another strange derelict was the ship Fred B. Taylor, which was cut clean in two by a German liner, which saved her crew. Both ends of the severed ship remained afloat, but they separated weirdly, the stern drifting to the northward and going ashore on the Maine coast forty-eight days later, and the bow drifting to the southward and being lost sight of off the Maryland coast seventy-two days later.

From September, 1889, till now the Hydrographic Office has received reports of almost 150 collisions with ice, derelicts and wrecks in the North Atlantic alone, and others probably occurred which were never heard of at all, because the unlucky breaks over the wicked hulk, scarcely lifting it. The derelict-hunting warship lowers her small boats and launches and they hover around it, sinking dynamite charges into it and attaching them where they may. Then they veer off, and presently the ocean rises roaring in a ghastly pillar like a giant. But the chances are ten to one that only a few splintered timbers float away. The fierce explosive energy of the dynamite expends itself for the most part on the sea that forms a great water-cushion around the wreck and saves it from vital injury.

Then the cruiser steams by slowly, broadside bearing, and looses her pent hell of flame. Shells plunge into the derelict faster than a steam hammer could land its blows. Up and down she steams, bringing successive broadsides to bear.

But the derelict remains afloat. She is too tough for the armament that could sink a warship.

NOW FOR THE RAM.

There is nothing left but the ram. The great cruiser swings around and turns slowly, till she lies pointing

And so it is that on the sea swiftly float o'er the bosom of the deep, those flashing delights called "yachts." Not the ordinary jolly little boat of from ten to a hundred tons, but stately monsters built of steel and bronze, of teak and costly woods, veritable palaces in all their fittings of luxury and elegance.

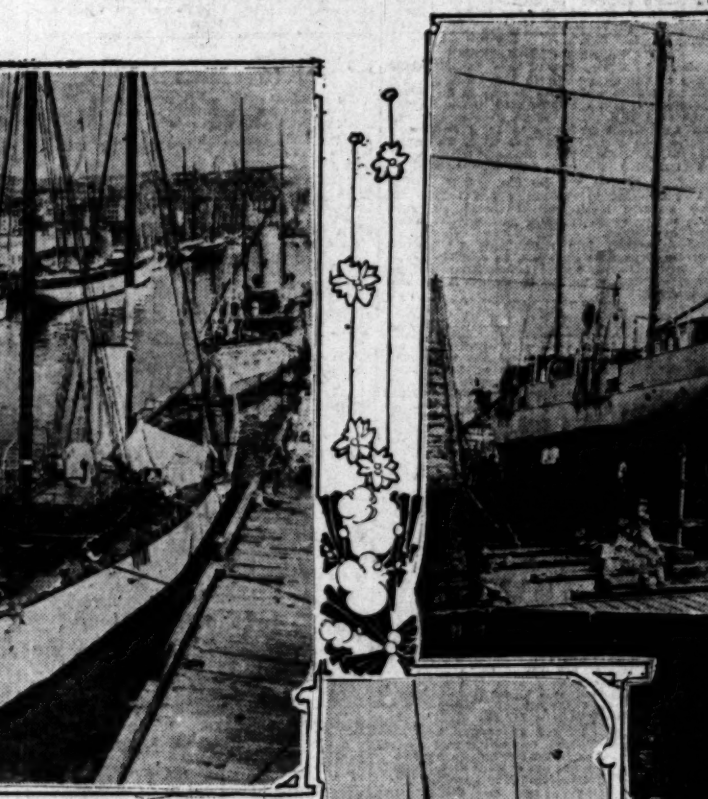

White-hulled as a rule they are, with streaks of gold and fancy curvings, with dazzling brass hat catches and reflects a thousand-fold the sun's bright rays, to which is added the crimson glow of the plate glass skylights and bull-eyes; until, as the graceful craft glides in the beams of the setting sun, she seems surely to be bathed in streams of fire flashing from each gilded point.

Then within, oh, who can tell—who has not been a favored guest, or mayhap held the right to wander there, of those delights of great cool cabins, decked with shrubs sweet-scented, and with flowers from a score of tropic lands; of companion ways to put to blush the grand stairways of a ball room. Then there are beautifully fitted state rooms, with private baths; music rooms, smoking rooms, dining rooms, and also cozy corners.

Such "homes upon the deep" cost millions, and thousands more, to keep the crew during the short yachting season, when the "400" don natty sailor costumes and talk of "top-masts," "bulwarks" and hunt the "anchorage watch" to see what time it is. And at Newport there are balls with stringed orchestras in the gallery, and at Mount Desert there are entertainments where the men salute each other in real nautical style—like captains of infantry.

It is a breathless moment when the derelict lies under the white bow of the ship that drive it down instead of splitting it, and in that case it will whirl deep under the forefoot and bob up again under the keel, to smash in the lower plates like cardboard.

But the ram goes true. There is a tremendous shock—a queer, dead, sagging shock. Then comes a rending of timbers, as if a monster sheet of paper were being ripped apart by gigantic hands deep below. Even as she strikes the ship's telegraph has rung to reverse. With a suck and a boiling the big ram pulls back and the next moment the sea is littered with timbers.

CARS BURNED FOR VENGEANCE.

SUCH IS CHARGE AGAINST PRISONER AT RIVERSIDE.

Former Stationary Engineer, Now a Tramp and Morphine Victim, Is Arrested and Accused of Arson—Southern Pacific Is Alleged Cause.

RIVERSIDE, May 14.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) In satisfaction of a cherished vengeance against the Southern Pacific Railroad, C. T. Hancock, erstwhile a stationary engineer, now a tramp and morphine fiend, is charged with having last night burned a roundhouse, eight box cars and a tool-house at Edison.

The flames from the roundhouse burned through the telegraph wires and for several hours all western traffic on the Southern Pacific was thrown into chaos and thousands of lives were jeopardized because the dispatchers could not handle the scores of trains on the road. Hancock was arrested early this morning near Palm Springs by Constable J. N. Layton and M. T. Bowler, the Southern Pacific detectives.

The prisoner was arraigned this afternoon before Justice Stephenson and held under $5000 bail for his preliminary hearing on Thursday. Hancock is an emaciated little man who pitifully tells that he has not had any morphine since last Thursday. He says that he had a stationery job at Galveston, Tex., and that he originally came from Toledo, O.

He left Galveston, according to his own story, last February, went to Ames, Iowa, searching for work, and then returned. In the course of this roundabout tramp he was ditched at Beaumont, Tex., and it is known that he several times swore vengeance against the railroad. It was only last night that his opportunity came to him.

Reckless of the lives of passengers on the road he is said to have fired the roundhouse and shed and succeeded in destroying more than $15,000 worth of property. This man is held for arson and the railway officials claim that they have sufficient evidence from his confessions and admissions to send him to San Quentin for the full term of the law. Hancock denies the alleged crime.

FLOWERY TRIBUTE.

Wealth of Blossoms at Bier of Attorney Miller—Widow Only Near Relative at Funeral.

At the last rites over the body of Clarence Miller, said yesterday, the grief-stricken widow was the only near relative who could be present to mourn at the bier of the well-known attorney and Fire Commissioner. The circumstances surrounding the sudden taking-off of Mr. Miller were emphasized by the absence of those who loved to do him reverence by attending the funeral.

The sorrowing mother, Mrs. Miller, is ill at her home in Eaton, O. Prof. Arthur Miller of Lexington, Ky., a brother, is hurrying to Los Angeles, and will arrive today; another brother, Marion Miller, is in New York and the aged mother and her city. The father died several years ago and has always kept in close touch with each other by frequent correspondence. The dead was the eldest of the three boys, and was educated at the University of Wooster, a Presbyterian college of Ohio.

Carnations and roses in abundance, and a variety of other beautiful flowers were a striking testimonial to the esteem in which the dead attorney was held. Almost buried in the billows of blossoms, the casket containing the remains was placed early yesterday in the chapel of Hutch Brothers on South Figueroa street. The funeral services were held in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Members of the bench and bar, the Mayor and many city officials were present, as well as a large concourse of friends. Mr. E. B. Meredith, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Pasadena, and a friend of the family, conducted the service. The interment will be deferred until the arrival of the brother.

The Los Angeles Bar Association sent a floral piece consisting of a broken wheel of the Board of Fire Commissioners a massive wreath of red carnations and maidenhair ferns, the Regis Chi fraternity, of which Mr. Miller was an honored member, a beautiful Maltese cross in white carnations and jonquills, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Burkhart sent a pillow of pink carnations and amilies.

PHOENIX'S RARE CHANGE.

Proposed Agreement Between Southern Pacific and Santa Fe Would Aid City.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.) PHOENIX (Ariz.) May 14.—B. F. Cheney of Boston, one of the principal directors of the Santa Fe system, now on a southwestern tour, was quoted a few days ago as saying that the Phoenix & Eastern line had been sold to the Southern Pacific and that Phoenix never would be on a main line. Mr. Cheney yesterday made a statement that he had been misunderstood. What he had said was that, while work now in progress would bring Phoenix up to a through Santa Fe road, yet he did not think the city ever would be upon the main line of the system. Mr. Cheney's reticence yesterday to the reported sale of the Phoenix & Eastern is as follows: "It is well known that after the Santa Fe had projected and partially built its line eastward from Phoenix it met with objections and difficulties at the instance of the Southern Pacific which prevented the Santa Fe from carrying out its plans as originally intended and brought about conferences between representatives of the two corporations with a view to reaching an amicable settlement which would permit each to maintain its efficiency and better the service in the localities through which it passes, and should these plans be consummated on the lines above indicated the city of Phoenix would, in all likelihood, become one of the most important shipping points on what would practically amount to two trunk lines."

All of which may readily be interpreted to mean that the rumor of consolidation of the two lines on a single road up the narrow box cañon of the Gila is about right, though the details are not yet worked out between the parties in interest.

Yesterday Mr. Cheney made an inspection of the Phoenix & Eastern and this morning prepared for a trip over the Santa Fe. Prescott and allied lines. From Prescott he will go to San Diego.

ARIZONA BRIEFS.

The Southern Pacific is preparing for the building of a new service line eastward from Kyrene, a distance of five miles, into a rich farming belt that now produces hay and which is expected to be one of the main sources of supply for the beet-sugar factory at Glendale. There is a suggestion that the road will be extended on to Mesa, where it would make connection with the Phoenix and Eastern, as well

The first barley of the season is now being threshed in the Salt River Valley. It is estimated that the valley barley crop will amount to about 15,000,000 pounds, and that of wheat to $900,000 pounds.

Custer, Billy A., Sally Pointer and Bystander, four of the best horses in the racing stable of J. C. Adams, have been started East to enter upon a racing circuit at Detroit, closing at Memphis in October, in time to return to Arizona for the November racing at the Territorial Fair Park near Phoenix.

Among late departures for Los Angeles and other Southern California points are included: J. K. Patterson, E. E. Prowell, C. V. McDonald, Vesta D. Higgins, Mrs. C. Knowles, M. E. Conboy, Mrs. M. G. EASTERNERS IN MINING DEALS.

THIRTEEN CLAIMS BOUGHT IN SHADOW MOUNTAIN.

Death Valley Consolidated Company, Owned by New York Capitalists, Will Develop the Two Groups Purchased—High-Class Machinery to Be Installed in the Early Fall.

SAN BERNARDINO, May 14.—Two mining deals involving $40,000 each were closed here today. Joseph Everett, James G. Williams and Leonard Merrill selling to the Death Valley Consolidated Company two groups of thirteen claims each in the Shadow Mountain mining district. The purchasing company is a New York corporation financed by wealthy easterners. Preparations to develop both groups are being made. Early in the fall expensive machinery will be installed at Haven, the stage station within the boundaries of the property.

RIVERSIDE RESIDENT ROBBED.

Adam Bortwick Comes to Town, Meets "Friend" and Now Mourns Loss of His Money.

Adam Bortwick of Riverside arrived in Los Angeles Thursday bent on having a royal old time. He immediately set out to consume the surplus stock of some of the liquor places in town. During the course of his journey he fell in with a "man" who was willing to get drunk at Bortwick's expense and together they made the rounds.

When the saloons closed both had accumulated quite a "slant" and had become so well acquainted that Bortwick invited his new-found friend to share his room for the night. They retired and when Bortwick awoke late yesterday he had a headache all right, but his "friend" had departed, taking with him Bortwick's wallet containing $55. Bortwick reported the theft to the police, but could not give an intelligent description of the man who robbed him, and so, of course, there is little chance of apprehending him.

MANIAC IMPRISONED NURSES.

Patient at Clara Barton Hospital Spreads Terror Before Police Arrive.

William M. Morse, an insane patient at the Clara Barton Hospital, became so violent yesterday that it was necessary to have him removed from the institution by the police and placed in restraint in the Receiving Hospital. Morse suffered under the impression that two men were attempting to kill him.

When an effort was made to control him at the Clara Barton Hospital he tore himself free and locked two of the nurses in a room. Then he hid behind two others, and would only agree to remain in his room on the promise of the nurses that two of them would stand at the door and protect him from the supposed two men.

When the police arrived they found Morse in his room with the guard of nurses on duty at the door. When Wagon Man Heath went into the room to arrest him, Morse sprang forward, with his hand extended. "I am glad to see you, old man," he exclaimed, as he gripped the officer's hand. "I need my gun, so that I can finish those two fellows who are trying to shoot me."

"Just come this way, and I will give it to you," said Heath. Morse walked out of the hospital eagerly, stepped into the patrol wagon and was driven to the Central Police Station and placed in the Receiving Hospital. He will probably be sent to the County Hospital today and cared for in the insane ward.

IDYLLWILD'S OUTLOOK.

Idyllwild Mountain Resort Company stockholders Thursday lectured as directors George I. Cochran, F. T. Bicknell, George A. Hart, Walter Jarvis Barlow, Charles Seyler, Jr., W. W. Hitchcock, Carl Kurtz, West Hughes, Walter Lindley, F. C. E. Mattison and T. E. Newlin. The report of the treasurer showed that the cash receipts for the four-month season of 1930 were $24,636.13, and there is a neat balance in the treasury. The Santa Fe has put on a through daily train between Los Angeles and Hemet, and the stage line between Hemet and Idyllwild is now equipped with fifty horses and five stages. Mr. Cochran is president; Walter Jarvis Barlow, vice-president; Walter Lindley, secretary and Carl Kurtz, treasurer. The outlook for this season is reported very promising.

Indian settlements, being practically destitute of fresh water. There has been some speculation whether Grindell did not fall into the hands of the Indians, but from the information there is little doubt that he perished from thirst.

The series among the most degraded Indians on the continent, living mainly upon shell fish, eking out a miserable existence along the sea coast, as Tiburon Island and the mainland east of it are desert in character, without arable land or water for irrigation, and with little game save sea fowl.

ENTERTAIN KNIGHTS. Douglas has entertained the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias of Arizona, much being done by the citizens to make the stay of their guests an interesting one. It is the twenty-third convention of the order in this Territory. J. H. Langston of Phoenix was elected Grand Chancellor, and Dr. J. E. Storey of Morenci, Grand Vice-Chancellor. John D. Loper of Mesa was selected Grand Keeper of Records and Sec. Louis Fitch of Tucson was elected Grand Chief of the Raths Sisters, and Mary McMullen of Phoenix, Grand Mistress of the Records and Correspondence.

Also there was held a very successful session of the Dramatic Order of Knights of Honor, with a public parade, wherein twenty-five novices were led in chains. It was reported that the lodges in Arizona had contributed $25 to Phoenix relief fund in San Francisco. To this sum the Grand Lodge added $500. Following adjournment of the Grand Lodge, many of its members accepted an invitation to visit the mining camp of Cananea, Sonora.

ARIZONA BRIEFS. A few days ago Alberto Ruiz was found dead in the calabozo of Ariz. Prieta, across the line from Douglas. He had cut his throat with a piece of glass from a lantern, which he had broken. There were other prisoners in the room at the time, but they seem to have taken little interest in the affair, though some were wet with the blood of the suicide. To them Ruiz stated that he did not propose to be stood against an adobe wall and be shot by Kottichy's rurales. Ruiz, a mere lad, was under arrest, charged with killing a Mexican about two years ago.

Juan Escalante was stabbed to death at Agua Prieta Sunday by Joaquin Ballesteros, an employee at the Copper Queen mine. There had been trouble over a woman. Ballesteros has escaped and is believed to be in the United States, heading northward.

Friday night the dwelling of William Stack, in Brewery Gulch, Bisbee, was destroyed by fire. In the charred ruins was found the body of William Wyman, a Phoenix miner, who had come from California only three weeks before. He lodged in the Stack house and, while intoxicated, is believed to have overturned a lamp, thus starting the blaze of his own funeral pyre.

Dean Elliott, alias Prescott, now under arrest in Los Angeles, dropped into Bisbee soon after the San Francisco disaster, claiming to have been a victim, to have lost his sister by a falling sign and to have been committed to a Los Angeles hospital. He was given work as an electrician with the Calumet & Arizona Company, but did not work long. He had a telegram from Los Angeles, telling that his son was dying. Sympathetic workmen raised a substantial fund and sent him on the way to his child. On arriving in Los Angeles, he telegraphed for more assistance, and $5 was sent promptly. When the money arrived, Elliott had been taken in by the police as a dangerous crook. Marshal Snodgrass has written the Los Angeles Chief of Police, asking for the return of the last contribution. The Marshal believes that Elliott while in Arizona assisted in several criminal operations, among them the breaking of the Copper City brewery safe at Douglas.

Memorial Day will be observed in Bisbee upon an unusual scale of elaboration. Gov. Kibbey is to be the principal speaker of the day and prominent citizens will be present as guests from distant parts of the Territory.

The youth of Bisbee is well shown by the fact that its oldest building, an adobe, just torn down, was built as late as 1874. The structure had passed, almost undamaged, through three general conflagrations.

Bisbee's tax roll, for this purpose, will reach $2,000,000 for this year. Last year the assessment was only $1,218,000.

Though the city health officer declares that the disease has been eradicated in Bisbee, several cases of smallpox are reported in the suburb of Lowell.

A second newspaper has been started at Benson, a weekly, named the Cochise County Press, and issued by W. F. White.

Under my treatment functional equilibrium is restored, the nerve irritation reduced, the circulation is increased and strength renewed. My cures are absolute and permanent.

Varicocele Cured in 4 to 8 Days. Many men have treated for varicocele by the common methods used and have hoped that nature would assist in re-establishing a natural physiological condition, but not one in my knowledge have had any hopes realized. Failure is sure to follow such methods as have been employed for many of strength which they can ill afford to lose.

WILL CLOSE FLOOD GATES.

Ponderous Doors to Divert Colorado River.

Salton Sea Soon to Lose Its Flood Supply.

Success in Sight for the Great Engineering Feat.

After sixteen months of hard and unremitting labor, much fruitless effort, and innumerable bitter disappointments, the engineers of the California Development Company are confident that they will be able within about ninety days to check the rush of the Colorado River into the Salton Sea, and thereby save the Imperial Valley from certain inundation.

CLOSE THE GATES.
The moment this is done the whole current now flowing into the Salton Sink, will be diverted through these heavy gates. They will then be shut down, and if the dam holds good, the rush of the Colorado River will be checked from its devouring of the fruitful valley for the first time since the lower canal was cut through to the connection with the river, unprotected by headgates of any kind.

CANAL A RIVER.
Originally but fifty feet wide, the mouth and a part of the river end of this canal is now more than 150 feet in width. It was built a year and a half ago as an auxiliary canal to give additional water to the valley. But when the Colorado came up, carrying with it high-water mark some four or five months ahead of schedule, it adopted this new canal, and conferred upon it the full thirty-third degree of a roaring river.

PROBLEM FOR ENGINEERS.
Hundreds of men have been employed for months, and thousands of dollars have been expended in what has proven so far a fruitless endeavor to stop the flood which has cut the Salton Sink driven the southern Pacific main line back to the hills, and flooded the country in and about Calexico for miles.

IMPERIALISTS SANGUINE.
Chief Engineer C. R. Rockwood, who has just returned from Calexico, declares that all of the alarm is confined to outsiders. "The farmers in the Imperial Valley are not afraid," he said yesterday. "They have been going quietly about their business, sowing their crops, reaping their harvests, making plenty of money and improving their lands. The prices of lands are held firm, and none of the inhabitants of the valley, practically speaking, are letting go of their holdings."

In addition to the work being done at the intake of the canal, Mr. Rockwood has a gang of men working along New River dynamiting its channel in order to deepen it sufficiently to confine the surplus flow of water within its banks and prevent its spread throughout the low country about Calexico.

WEDDING TRIP WAS A DREAM.

Chauffeur Lost His Job but Won His Bride.

Called Girl from School and Married Her.

Now His Father-in-Law Is Hunting for Him.

A wedding trip in a dashing automobile, with the bridegroom as chauffeur, and the bride one of the prettiest girls of the Southern California alfalfa district beside him—this was the fond dream of light-hearted "Mart" Southstone.

SEARCH FOR BRIDE.
He says he will not rest until he has found his daughter and taken her away from the automobile driver. Taylor was continuing the search at a late hour last night, and has appealed to the Los Angeles police to aid him in the search.

READY TO MARRY.
Southstone cheerfully acquiesced. It is said the pretty girl who had captured the heart of the auto-driver has been at the O'bear home to see her sweetest, and she has said that if he swain had given out that she was an orphan with no relatives in this country, while the girl looked very young, on the representations made by the two, Mr. O'bear made no investigation.

HURRIED WEDDING.
Southstone hurried with his sweetheart to Santa Ana. They went at once to the Courthouse and applied for a marriage license. This document gives the bride's age as 30 years.

CINDERELLA'S BALL.
Three-Act Drama by B'nai B'rith Children for Benefit of San Francisco's Needy Ones.

The Juvenile Helpers' Society, composed of members of the junior class of the B'nai B'rith Temple Sunday-school, will give a novel entertainment at the Fraternal Brotherhood Hall, No. 843 South Figueroa street, for the benefit of San Francisco's needy children.

QUEEN OF DRAMA'S LOVE-MAKING WINS.

She who on Thursday morning was Taylor, a school girl, the daughter of a public school, daughter of a well-to-do rancher there, is now Mrs. Mauritus H. Southstone. Papa-in-law Taylor is mad through and through. He says it is a case of abduction.

USUAL BEATING FOR FRESNO.

WEEK HOLDS VISITORS DOWN TO THREE SWATS.

Lemke Rapped Lemke for Ten Hits but Hit for Work Hard for Victory With This Bombardment—Brashers Appears in Game Again—Fans Turn Out in Larger Numbers.

Los Angeles, 2; Fresno, 2.
Yesterday it was the same old story. The same old way, with the ex-Tierrero coming out of the title end of the game, the eighth defeat out of ten for the home team. Fisher by this time became the original hard-luck kid, having been hit by two more beatings while he was in the game. The up-coming team is a little outclassed, but they did the visitors down to three swats, and yet might consider themselves lucky in winning the game. The game was a comparatively easy one, and the home team got a hit, and the visitors came through with a run. In the fielding line Ross was a bright star, making a long run throw to first and Lemke, who had been a great catch, and the home team got a hit. The game was a great catch, and the home team got a hit. The game was a great catch, and the home team got a hit.

Barney Oldfield in his flyer. The dare-devil automobile racer has just been divorced. Barney did not contest his wife's suit, the lawyer who represented him not even taking the trouble to cross-examine the witnesses. Mrs. Oldfield resides in Detroit.

NOTED DRIVER ISN'T COMING.

BARNEY OLDFIELD TO PASS US COLDLY BY.

He Has Cut Out Track on Which He Made Eight World's Records, No Reason Given for Decision, but Some Think Stiffness of the Game Here is Cause.

It can be stated authoritatively that Barney Oldfield will not race in Los Angeles this summer, and his ever racing here is indefinite. Every effort has been made to get Oldfield here and on numerous occasions those in communication with the great automobile speedster claimed to have assurances that he was working westward and would compete against Bert Dingley and other racers on the Pacific Coast. He has always been supposed to have a fondness for the local track, on which he made eight world's records with his 60-horse-power Peerless.

Yesterday Oldfield set all gossip at rest by writing to a friend in Los Angeles that he would not appear here, and had decided to cut this city out of his circuit. There are no reasons given for the decision, and the matter is left open to speculation. It is the opinion of racers here, that Oldfield, like many other celebrities, would rather travel on his reputation than take the chance of having his laurels swept from him on a Los Angeles track, where there are men who will not only go after him, but whom he will take any chance that Oldfield will on the straight-away or oval. In Dingley, Pearson, and Smith Oldfield would find worthy competitors, and it will be left to these men to put the ginger in the coming races.

SUNDAY YACHT RACING.

First Event of Season Will Be Sailed by South Coast Yacht Club Tomorrow Afternoon.

Local yachtsmen will spread out their white wings and sail over the sea tomorrow afternoon in the first contest of the many arranged for the summer, by the South Coast Yacht Club. It is said there will be at least twelve boats in the race in A, B and C classes, and the course will be off Long Beach, the prizes being the Erkenbrecher cup for Class A boats and the club championships for all classes.

SEATTLE TEAM TO QUIT LEAGUE.

AGNEW WOULD JOIN NORTHWEST LEAGUE.

Declares That He Has Sunk a Big Wad of Money in Pacific Coast Baseball—Declaration of Seattle Manager Is Direct Reversal of Former Statement That He Would Not.

PORTLAND, May 18.—In an interview today James Agnew, business manager of the Seattle baseball team, declared that Seattle would quit the Coast League and would apply for admission into the Northwest League. He declared that Seattle had sunk a great deal of money in the Pacific Coast League proposition, and would no longer remain in the organization. This announcement is at direct variance with statements accredited to him following the meeting of the Pacific Coast magnates at Oakland, when it was reported he had expressed his intention of remaining in the Pacific Coast League.

KING EDWARD INTERESTED.

England's Ruler Desires That Official Cognizance Be Taken of Yacht Races Off Newport.

NEW YORK, May 18.—The Times today says: "It was learned yesterday that it is the intention of King Edward to have official cognizance taken of the race for the yachting trophy offered by the American Yacht Club to be sailed for off Newport, R. I., August 8, and that probably two English warships will make it the occasion of a visit to the course. Sir Mortimer Durand and English embassy attaches, with other dignitaries, will attend. "Rumor is still busy with the story that the King has conveyed to Sir Thomas Lipton his desire that Shamrock III should be a contestant for the first race, though no intimation of any such intention on the part of the Irish Baronet has yet been conveyed to the New York Yacht Club officials."

MISS SUTTON MEETS DEFEAT.

N. W. Niles, Harvard Tennis Champion, Takes Exhibition Game by Close Score of 6-4.

BOSTON, May 18.—Miss Sutton of California, the world's woman tennis champion, was defeated in an exhibition set today, but it took a man to do it. The champion of Harvard, holder of the university championship, who won 6-4. Miss Sutton qualified for the invitation singles by defeating Miss Evelyn Sears of Boston.

MINOR BASEBALL.

The long looked for ball game between the U.S.C. and the St. Vincent's will be played this afternoon on the U.S.C. grounds, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. It promises to be an exciting affair as both teams are said to be very evenly matched. The usual crowd and such games will be augmented by the appearance of a large number of college boys from the different local institutions who have already notified the management that they will be on hand.

U.S.C.-S.V.C. TODAY.

The U.S.C. baseball nine will meet the fast aggregation of St. Vincent's College this afternoon in the Methodist diamond. U.S.C. hopes to win with Birdwell and Burek as the battery. The Catholics have a strong team and the tussle will be hard. S.V.C. won the first game and should the Catholics win today the chance of the Methodists winning the pennant will be small indeed.

BASKETBALL THIS MORNING.

The girls' basketball team of the University of Southern California will play a match game with the Marlborough School five this morning at 10 o'clock on the courts at U.S.C. The varsity girls have not lost a game this season, and from the record of both teams the game should be interesting.

contractors who will underbid their fellowmen, and then fail in business to get even, and others who cut down wages and oppress labor in order to underbid their competitors, but cut-throat competition, he said, practically destroys itself. Continuing, Dr. Gladden said:

"Surplus labor has been pretty well absorbed by the booming time through which we are passing, but thoughtful men believe the time is fast approaching when there must be a change."

"One reason for men being out of employment is the disposition of corporations to get rid of employees when they are 40 or 45 years of age. Work once done by the father is now often done by the mother and daughters. The fact that 'everybody works but father' is no joke in many cases."

"If it is true that wealth has increased fourfold per capita while wages paid for labor have but doubled, it is apparent that the laborer is not getting his share."

"But two solutions are possible: war or arbitration. Up to this time it seems to be war. It seems that the strike and lockout are the only way to settle the labor problem. The strike is exhausted, and then they turn to arbitration."

Dr. Gladden won great applause when he predicted the time is coming when capital and labor will strive together and divide the products of their industry. One side may insist upon resorting to force, but if so the wage system will be destroyed and some other system will take its place."

A STUNNING REASON.

The subject of "Charities and Corrections" was opened by Dr. J. K. McLean, president of the Congressional Seminary at Berkeley, and president of the State board. After quoting a mass of figures showing the number of persons in the city jails and in the various institutions of the State he said:

"The fact that there is but one woman in the city jails and jails to ninety men explains why there are so many women and so few men in the city jails."

"In the asylums, county jails, hospitals and penitentiaries of California there were more than 55,000 persons, during the past year, to say nothing of the great numbers in the city jails and private hospitals—enough to make a population equal to the fourth city in the commonwealth. The total cost of the city jails and hospitals was $3,325,000, to which must be added over $2,000,000 that it cost to send them to the different institutions."

Dr. McLean denounced the penitentiaries and county jails as a disgrace and a blot on the fair name of the State, and the former as "universities of crime."

In commencing his talk upon the same topic, Dr. Gladden, president of the Board of Charities and Corrections, briefly told the story of the destruction of the asylum at Agnew. He told how the four floors of the building had all fallen in a mass at the same moment, while the 1100 inmates and eleven officers went down with the building, but one of the latter and 101 of the inmates were killed, and the one officer who was saved was rescued by a man who was confined there as a lunatic. Since then they have lived under the trees, each taking his own bed to the trees of his choice.

An old lady said to Mr. Gates as he went about among them:

"Oh, we are having a fine time," and when asked why, she replied:

"Well, I'll tell you mister; no locks and no keys."

Mr. Gates was getting along seemingly better than before, said the speaker, and we may have learned a lesson from the calamity at Agnew.

Mr. Gates made a tender plea for kindly treatment of not only the inmates, but of all people who become subjects of charity. He denounced the habit of indiscriminate giving, and urged that all charitable organizations get into direct touch with the Associated Charities, declaring that the worthy subject will get much better treatment, impostors eliminated, and only a small percentage of the money will be required that is now consumed. He declared that cities offer a premium to people to come there and live in idleness, by their persistence in giving aid without organization.

AROUND THE KITE.

Today the congress will go around the kite in a special train, stopping first at Claremont, where a meeting will be held in Pomona College, and addresses heard from Prof. C. S. Nash of Berkeley and Rev. C. G. Caldwell of Palo Alto. Direct touch with the Associated Charities, followed by a stop at Riverside. At both places the visitors will be entertained by the Congregational churches, returning to the city in the evening.

The ministers of the congress have been appointed to various pulpits in the city for morning and evening services, and in the afternoon at 3 o'clock a mass meeting for men will be held in the First Congregational Church. The lower floor will be reserved for men, and ladies are invited to occupy the gallery. The addresses will be by Dr. George C. Adams of San Francisco and Prof. E. L. Bosworth of Oberlin College.

HELP THEM OUT OF LAST DITCH.
BUT TWO DAYS LEFT OF HOT CAMPAIGN.

New Building of Young Men's Christian Association Will Be Dedicated Tomorrow.

Happy, and yet not so happy, is the condition of the Young Men's Christian Association this morning. They are happy because they have raised so much money, and see visions of the completion of their undertaking to raise $250,000 for their new building. But there is a slight tinge of unhappiness because they have $21,000 yet to raise, and according to the gaze laid down by themselves, but two days in which to get it.

In the face of the great calamity which has called out of this city $300,000 in cash for the relief of distressed brothers, and $300,000 more in supplies for the same loving relief, it will be a magnificent comment on the enterprise and generosity of the people of Los Angeles when they have laid at the feet of the young men of the city this gift of $250,000. It will not stand alone for the city's glory, but the up-building of the character of its manhood, and no citizen will ever live to regret the part he has taken in it.

Last night the total amount to be raised was reduced to $21,000; small subscriptions, $1000; Memberships, $1000 (additional); $500; A. C. Blucke, $500; Mrs. Mary B. Purcell, $500; J. M. Elliott, $500; William Mend, $500; Nathan, $500; J. D. Proctor, $500; Dr. W. L. Stoddard, $500; Walter J. Trask, $500; Union Iron Works, $500; W. E. Cummings, $500; Charles R. Drake, $500; M. L. Wicks, $500; George Wilson, $500; W. D. Woolwine, $500; George S. Patton, $500; Percy R. Wilson, $500; H. M. Mosher, $500; C. Westley Roberts, $500; Fairchild-Gilmore-Wilkinson Company, $500; E. F. C. Klokke, $500; W. E. Hughes, $500; S. G. Wilson, $500; Alta Planning Mill Company, $500; R. B. Young, $500; Charles L. Batchelder, $500; George B. Ellis, $500; W. J. Davis, $500; Judge Curtis D. Wilbur, $500; Justice William B. Fordwell, $500; George Morton, $500; Judge Waldo M. York, $500; Henry Guyot, $500; L. M. Anderson, $500; J. D. Proctor, $500; Dr. W. L. Stoddard, $500; Briggs Real Estate Company, $500; U. S. G. Todd, $500; Dr. M. B. Ketchum, $500; John H. Brown, $500; George A. Adams, $500; W. J. Sheriff, $500; H. Botsford, $500; Dr. H. B. Fasig, $500; Henry J. Stevens, $500.
